CAMPAIGN MANAGERS ALL PREDICT THEY ARE GOING TO WIN

Hays and White Both Claim Victory On Tuesday -- Socialists Claims They Will Poll 3,000,000 Votes--Campaign Closed Saturday Night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(By The Associated Press.)—The presidential campaign of 1920 waged principally around the league of nations, formally closed tonight.

Tonight the leading figures on Republican and Democratic tickets addressed audiences in the east and middle west. Tomorrow they will rest. Monday will bring the last toot of campaign horn and the last flare of red light. Tuesday will come the voting.

But altho on Monday there will be staged the final skirmish for votes, the real battle ended tonight. It was marked as every political campaign is marked with expressions of confidence in victory from rival headquarters.

"The evidence of the overwhelming Republican victory hourly increases" was the statement of William H. Hayes, chairman of the Republican National Committee. "It is apparent the Republicans will have a minimum total of 368 electoral votes. We will have a greatly increased majority in the house and a substantial mjarity in the senate."

This from George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

"Cox and Roosevelt will win. They will have a party majority in the senate and house."

Socialists Claim 3,000,000 Votes.

Socialist headquarters, while making no claim of electoral votes, predicted that the party would poll the largest vote in its history—3,000,000 some leaders claimed. While asserting that many of these ballots would represent party converts Socialist advocates also prophesied that many would represent a protest vote against imprisonment of political prisoners, including Eugene V. Debs, their own presidential candidate now in Atlanta penitentiary for violation of the espionage act. All parties took into consideration swelling of the vote by the appearance of women casting their first ballots for President. In his prediction for victory for Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge, Mr. Hays laid claim to the following States:

California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Mssachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Wshington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

"In addition," said Mr. Hays, "The Republicans have very much better than an even chance to carry Arizona, Kentucky, Maryland and New Mexico with 27 additional electoral votes. This makes 359 Republican electoral votes, almost certain out of the total of 531.

Kentucky Almost Certain.

"The Republican victory in Kentucky is almost certain providing the weather is such that it is physically possible for the great Republican majority in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky to get to the polls. The same element enters into the result in Tennessee, wher thr is a splndid chance for the Republicans. We also have a splendid opportunity to carry North Carolina and Oklahoma. This makes the probability of an additional 34 votes. The only states certainly Democratic are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Louisian, Mississippi, South Carolina, Georgia, Texas and Virginia.

"The electorate of America which is for America first, is simply waiting for the opportunity to voice a protest against inefficiency, extravagance and autocracy in government and to express its complete confidence in the constrductive ability of the Republican party in a manner that will be heard around the world."

White Checks Up.

Mr. White who declared he had spent the last three days checking up detailed reports from all state chairmen asserted he saw "no reason to alter my forecast in which I predicted a certain victory for the Democratic ticket.

"But in perfect fairness I want to say that this will not be done a Democratic victory. It will be the victory of America the victory over disloyalty and partisanship, a victory over dishonor, a victory over the councils of selfishness.

"This nation wants to establish and maintain world peace in concert with those nations which were our allies in the struggle against imperialism and militarism. It wants to extend the Monroe Doctrine to the world. It wants to secure peace in the eastern hemisphere as in the western and to spare future generations of Americans from the necessity of laying down lives abroad to save mankind from military domination."

G. H. WILSON SHOWS LEAGUE FALLACIES

Quincy Attorney Made Strong Address at Court House Saturday Night — Len Small Praised By Kankakee Woman.

The campaign, so far as public meetings are concerned, closed in Jacksonville Saturday night when George H. Wilson addressed an audience at the court house. Hugh P. Green was the chairman and before Mr. Wilson spoke Earl B. Searcy, candidate for representative, was heard and Mrs. Hutton, probation officer of Kankakee county, gave an estimate of Len Small. Mr. Searcy, as he has in each of his public appearances, in Jacksonville, made a very favorable impression. Mrs. Hutton told her auditors that in connection with the duties of her office she had come into knowledge of Mr. Small's characteristics and reputation. She related various incidents to give proof of the high estimate placed upon Mr. Small in his home city. She said that thru his kindly interest, many philanthropic works have been possible and she gave him unstinted praise because of his high character and personal worth.

Some League Failures.

Mr. Wilson in his excellent address dealt almost exclusively with the league of nations. The Quincy jurist, who is known almost as well in Jacksonville as in his home city, made it clear that he has studied carefully the league of nations constitution and the covenant as proposed by President Wilson. He derided the thought advanced by some Democrats that it is an unholy thing to oppose the league of nations program, and recited history to show how several attempts along the same line of inter-power agreements have signally failed.

Mr. Wilson sharply criticised the president for his usurpation of powers of government, and said that he was an absolute despot seeking to impose his will upon all the American people. He charged that this spirit was emphasized in the Lansing incident, when he wrote the discharged secretary about "minds running along with his own."

The speaker praised the senate for its treaty stand and pointed out that there are 21 Democrats who stood with the 28 Republicans in opposition to Mr. Wilson's plan. Altogether it was a lucid explanation of the league and a soathing denouncement of the administration and the whole presidential attitude.

HAD BIG MEETING AT MEREDOSIA

A Republican mass meeting was held in Meredosia Saturday night with a crowd in attendance that overflowed the hall. Mr. and Mrs. John J. Reeve and Judge H. P. Samuell all made addresses discussing national and state issues.

They also had good words to say for the county candidates. There were people from all parties in attendance and a fine enthusiasm was shown thruout.

LANDSLIDE IS G. O. P. PROSPECT

Earl Searcy Candidate for the Legislature Tells Reasons for Republican Confidence.

"Tuesday will witness a landslide that will shake the whole country. The nation, state and smaller units will turn up Republican majorities that will be astounding."

This is the forecast of Earl B. Searcy, one of the two Republican nominees for General Assembly from this senatorial district. Searcy was here last night to participate in the county's final rally.

"In 1912, the Democrats rebuked us Republicans for methods which a plurality of our citizens thought ought to be stopped. They elected a president and many governors. The Republicans took their licking. The Democrats promised, at that time, a reduc of prices.

"Four years ago, a world war was on. Sentiment in the United States, about campaign time, was against American participation in that war. The Democrats took advantage of it. They told the country that President Wilson had 'kept us out war,' and a majority of the voters believed it. Wilson was elected in November of 1919 Five months later, war was declared.

"This year, it is much the same story, except that the plea has been revised to keep apace the trend of time. The war is over, and an international league is presented which Mr Cox acting on advice from the man who 'kept us out of war,' says will keep us out of future wars. Cox proposes to keep us out of foreign entanglements by sending troops and ships to foreign lands in order to protect those lands from 'external aggression.' Instead of a league formed primarily for the purpose of promoting friendly and commercial intercoure, this vicious instrument would bind us to settle the disputes of European countries. It cannot be done peaceably.

"Not only that, but we have suffered internally for eight years. Farmers know what has happened to market conditions ,since the war, for lack of tariff enough to protect their crops from 'external aggression.' Mothers of sons fell for the White House cry in 1916 They know better this time.

"Waste and extravagance have been indulged to a degree that is amazing. The American public was called upon to subscribe twice as many bonds as ought to have been needed. The war department alone, in its conduct of the war, wasted one-half of the eighteen millions of dollars that it spent. Figures in black and white, in our treasury records at Washington, will bear out this statement. It is little wonder that some of these matters have been covered up while a great pow-wow has been made over the league of nations. I don't blame them for concentrating on the league.

"The Democrats have had their inning. Their representatives at Washington have failed. They have not even played in good faith with the honest Democrats at home, and there are many such. We Republicans have fought clean this fall, and Tuesday will tell an overwhelming story of the change that is to come."

The coming of an actor of such ability as Lou Tellegen to Jacksonville meant a real dramatic treat. Mr. Tellegen appeared at the Grand Opera House for matinee and evening performances, presenting his great success, "Blind Youth," a comedy drama in three acts with scenes laid in Paris and New York.

Mr Tellegen was introduced to this country by Madame Sarah Bernhardt, who engaged him as her leading man after she had observed his work in Paris.

"Blind Youth" has recently had a most successful run in Chicago. It tells the story of a hadsome artist who comes near to ruin thru his love for an adventuress, but the regeneration of a pure love comes in time. The supporting company here was the same as that which appeared in the cities and Jacksonville people were of one mind in their opinion that Mr. Tellegen is a wonderful actor and has gathered about him a company of artists. The city is indebted to Manager Fisher for bringing an attraction of such worth.

INFANTRY HAS BEEN ORDERED OUT FOR CUBAN ELECTION

Fear Trouble in Province of Santa Clara

WOULD LIKE TO HAVE CROWDER THERE

HAVANA, Oct. 30.—Four companies of Cuban infantry have been sent to the province of Santa Clara, which is regarded as a danger spot in Monday's presidential election. Reports from that province have indicated that factional feeling is running high, and fears were expressed by some leaders that troops might be needed to put down trouble before the polls opened.

The liberals, under General John Miguel Gomez, leader of the last revolt, have filed additional evidence with the American legation of alleged intimidation and fraud on the part of the government. They are claiming victory for their party, however.

Liberal leaders charge that the coalition party is planning to steal the election and declare that should the Gomez party be defeated a proof of the fraud will be submitted to the nited States government with a formal plea that the election be annulled and a second election held under American submission.

Regret generally is expressed by both factions that Major General Enoch H. Crowder, the American wartime provost marshal-general framed the law under which the people will vote for the first time Monday, was not ordered here as an impartial observer. His presence in Cuba, the leaders say would have done much to assure the people of fairness in the election.

IMPORTANT THEMES ON TODAY'S PROGRAM

Prominent Welfare Workers Will Discuss Vital Qu stions at State Street Presbyterian Church.

Altho Miss Jane Addams will be unable to speak Sunday afternoon at the meeting of State Conference of Charities and Corrections in State Street Presbyterian church a program of unusual interest to the people of Jacksonville will be given. The meeting will be held at two o'clock.

Mr. John A. Lapp, president of the National Catholic Welfare Council, will speak on "The Church and Social Reconstruction." Mr. Lapp's address will deal with the most vital interests of social work in its influence thru the churches. Mr. Lapp has a particularly strong and important message which will appeal to all groups of persons.

"The Institution as a Community" will be the subject of an address by Mr. A. L. Bowen, state superintendent of charities. This address will be of special interest to Jacksonville persons on account of its relation to the state institutions and their development as individual communities. Mr. Bowen for ten years has been the most important figure in state institution work in Illinois. As executive secretary of the State Charities Commission and later as state superintendent of charities, to Mr. Bowen more than to any one other person belongs the credit for the splendid progress made in the development of the Illinois state charitable institutions. The true possibilities of the institution and how Illinois is striving to realize them will be told by the man who has made the greatest contribution to the institution of this state.

FIRST AMERICAN ORCHESTRA MAY PLAY HERE

A coast to coast tour, the first in its seventy-eigth years of uninterrupted music-making in America, is now being planned for the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, the oldest symphonic organization in the country, and the third oldest in the world. The tour, which is scheduled to bring the Philharmonis in the vicinity of Jacksonville about May 25, 1921, is also the first trip further West than Detroit that the orchestra has made since 1915, when the Philharmonic successfully undertook an extended middle western and southern journey.

For those cities, therefore, which are farther away from New York than the somewhat restricted district usually covered by the orchestra's short trips ,the proposed coast to coast tour will be not only a new opportunity, but one which may not present itself again for many years.

It will only be possible to assure the coming of this organization by securing sufficient number of guarantors.

WILL SERVE DINNER

The Ladies' Aid of the Merritt church will serve a chicken dinner at the church election day.

CHARITY CONFERENCE TO MEET IN CAIRO

Southern City Chosen for Next Years Session—Big Themes Considered Saturday by Divisional Committee.

Nearly 300 delegates were in atendance at the second day's sessions of the state conference of charities and corrections. Divisional committees met for morning sessions. Phases of feeble-mindedness were considered by the committee on mental hygiene, with addresses by Dr. F. P. Norbury, president of the board of welfare commission, Dr. Herman Adler, state criminologist, Dr. C. B. Caldwell of the Lincoln school and colony, and Dr. Ralph Truitt, medical director of the Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene. At a general business session Cairo was chosen for the next place of meeting.

For the meeting of the committee on health the speakers were, Dr. C. W. East, state department of public health; Dr. G. G. Taylor, of the same department, Dr. Emma Appel, of the board of education, Chicago. For the committee on family the speakers were, Rev. John W. Mellody, Chicago; Miss Amelia Sears of the United Charities, Chicago; M. J. Karpf, of the Jewish Aid Society of Chicago.

The committee on children held an afternoon session with Dr. Caroline Hedger, making the principal address. Another afternoon conference was that of the committee on correctness and Illinois State's Attorneys association. Among the speakers was State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson of Jacksonville.

Several essions

A large audience assembled for the general committee at night. A musical program was furnished by the College of Music of Illinois Woman's college. "The Offender" was the general theme, discussed first "As the criminologist knows him," by Dr. Herman M. Adler, state criminolUogist. The next address was by Judge Hugo Pam of the superior court of Cook county, who discussed the offender "as the judge who knows him."

Judge Pam is one of the most noted of the many prominent men and women in attendance at the conference. It is Judge Pam's view that a court should consider the background of a criminal case. In fitting the penalty to the crime in cases that come into hi s court he takes into consideration general facts about the prisoner and his family and seeks to know what the general effect of the sentence or punishment will be. Judge Pam counts it the duty of a presiding judge to constantly keep in view the welfare of society.

As noted elsewhere in this issue, delegates to the convention will speak in different church pulpits today and an important general meeting will be held at the State treet church this afternoon.

MANAGERS OF BOTH SMALL AND LEWIS PREDICT VICTORY

Smith Says Republicans Will Win by Over 400,000

O'CONNELL PUTS ON SOFT PEDAL

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The political campaign wound up tonight with the candidates of both major parties confident of victory Tuesday.

Managers of former Senator James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee for governor, predicted that he would carry the state by 60,000 and that Cook county, the stronghold of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago, would give Lewis an advantage of 85,000.

Backers of Len Small, nominee of the Republican party, were certain that their candidate who is supported by Mayor Thompson would defeat Lewis by at least 250,000 votes.

John Maynard Harlan, Independent Republican who has also claimed victory, declaring that he would draw thousands of votes from each candidate.

Smith's Statement

Frank L. Smith, chairman of the Republican central committee issued the following statement concerning the election:

- "Illinois will go Republican in Tuesday's election because the Republican candidates for all offices ought to be elected.

"We are confident that the Republican ticket will poll 55 per cent of the total vote which is estimated at 1,320,000. If the minor parties poll six per cent that will indicate a Republican plurality of 484,000. Even if we cut everything down to the lowest point, there still will be an enormous plurality. We are certain to be 250,000 votes ahead in the end."

O'Connell Puts on Soft Pedal

William L. O'Connell, chairman of Mr. Lewis's campaign committee made the following statement:

"James Hamilton Lewis will be elected by 60,000 votes. He will carry Cook county by 85,000.

"In the eighty five counties which Oglesby carried in the primaries, Lewis will run even with Small in some, but ahead of him in most. In the fifteen counties which Small carried, Lewis will cut Small's plurality to 30,000.

"This estimate is based on careful canvasses of every section of the state."

The program was as follows: Declamation by Catherine Wilson; oration by Henry Irving, extemporaneous debate on the question, "Resolved, That final examination be abolished," affirmative, Sheldon, Nichol, Negative, George Craig. APPEAL HAS BEEN MADE TO CONFIDENCE OF AMERICAN PEOPLE

Harding Says Republicans Rest Cause to Dependable, Intelligent Public Opinion—Will Have No Apologies to Make Afterward—Has Had No Thought of Class

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30.—Resting the Republican cause on an appeal to "dependable, intelligent public opinion" Senator Harding told the voters of the nation in his final campaign speeches today and tonight that his party wanted a calm, sober verdict at the polls based on good faith and attained by honest political methods.

Going to Columbus after a day o fcampaigning over the stamping ground of his Democratic opponent, Governor Cox, the Republican nominee delivered to a big meeting in Memorial Hall here his last campaign message from the stump.

He was greetedat the railway station by a cheering crowd and later was acclaimed by thousands as he drove thru the streets. In all of his speeches Mr. Harding emphasized his stand on domestic issues which he declared the Democratic managers had sought to obscure by a fog of debate about the league of nations. He also asserted over and over that it was the "confidence" of the nation to which he was appealing and that the methods of his party in the campaign had been free from sectional class appeal.

No Apologies Will be Needed

"There isn't anything that has happened in this campaign," he said, "that the Republican party or its nominee is ever going to be called upon to apologize for."

On the way here from Cincinnati, where he spent last night, the senator spoke at Middletown, the boyhood home of Governor Cox at Dayton, where he now lives and at Springfield, the home of one of the Cox newspapers. In none of his speeches did he mention his opponent by name, but he made many references to the Democratic nominee's campaign utterances and voiced in pointed terms his own reply to them.

At Middletown where many steel workers were in the crowd, Mr. Harding argued for the protective tariff policy to preserve the American steel industry and repeated his declaration that intelligent public opinion must be the judge at the polls next Tuesday.

Appealed to Confidence

"We are witnessing today," he said, "practically the close of a great political campaign and as one speaking for the Republican party I rejoice to say to you that we have tried to make our appeal to the confidence of the American people. We have tried to speak to the intelligence of America because in popular government dependable, intelligent public opinion is the final authority. We have sought to promote unity and understanding. We have sought to bring Americans together. We have sought to eliminate all thought of class. We have sought to ignore every suggestion of section, aye, more, there isn't anything that has happened in this campaign that the Republican party or its nominee is ever going to be called upon to apologize for."

Dayton turned out a crowd so great that altho they were packed around the rear platform of his train in a dense mass of humanity, many could not get close enough to hear the short speech. They cheered his "hits" at "one man government" and bade him good bye in a great roar of applause when the train pulled out.

If John M. Harlan has the sincere belief that he stands any chance of being elected to the governership of Illinois, he certainly doesn't know much about politics. The chances are, however, that Mr. Harlan has no thought of accomplishing anything by his candidacy other than the defeat of Len Small, the Republican nominee for the governorship.

Mr. Harlan has a record along this line of political activity. With the sentiment growing stronger and stronger each day for the Republican ticket, the estimates of the Harding majority continually growing larger, the chance of Mr. Harlan doing any material damage grows visibly less.

Billboard advertisements for theatrical attractions now frequently embody the phrase, "not a motion picture." The necessity of using these words in order to differentiate between filmdom and the so-called legitimate stage is proof of the tremendous growth of the motion picture business. No longer does the mere title of a play give any idea as to whether it is to be staged in films or thru the agency of flesh and blood.

If you do not know much about the business or personal life or the public record of Len Small, you can gain a very good idea of these things from the results in the primary election. The people who live in a man's home town, or rather his home precinct, his neighbors and friends, have the best chance to really know a man. In the primary election 780 votes were cast in Mr. Small's home precinct and all but eight of those votes were cast in favor of Len Small.

Certainly a man who doesn't build up a greater number of unfriendly people—of those who are at least critics—in a period of years must be a pretty good sort. Mr. Small, by the way, has lived in that one precinct for thirty-seven years.

IT'S THE SPIRIT THAT COUNTS

After all, happiness and contentment are just matters of comparison with the right people or the right conditions. If you choose, you may sit down and think about people who are seemingly living under far easier and happier conditions than yourself, with everything in their favor. Then if you cast about in another direction you can with greater ease think of people whose lot is cast with far less fortunate surroundings.

If you happen to be in a gloomy mood today or some other day, just have a thought of a man who, at fifteen years of age, was in a county home, minus legs and with only one arm and that partially crippled. Today he is a well educated, successful business man doing his whole part in the world—in fact, a much larger part than many an able-bodied citizen does.

You can't take away the imagination this man says, and so long as imagination functions it doesn't make much difference what happens to those things that are purely physical. In other words, it's the spirit that counts, and with the spirit in command, man can do almost anything.

VOTE IT STRAIGHT

If you think the matter over, there are good reasons for voting your ballot straight in the election Tuesday. The ballot itself is the largest that a voter has ever taken into the booth. Eleven parties are represented on that ballot. There are various ways of "scratching" a ballot, of voting a mixed ticket, but unless a man or woman is thoroly familiar with this procedure and is careful about the manner in which those markings are placed, there is a fine chance of so damaging the ballot that it cannot be counted by the election judges.

A safe way to do is to vote the ticket straight. If the Republican party had any candidate to be ashamed of, any man running not qualified to meet the duties of the office he is seeking, this might be poor advice, but the contrary conditions prevail. The party can rightfully be proud of every candidate on the ticket and the election of these party representatives will insure efficient and business-like administration of national, state and county affairs. A cross in the circle at the left of the Republican party name will do the work.

A JUDGE AND A WELFARE WORKER.

Jacksonville is honored today in the presence of Judge Hugo Pam of the superior court of Chicago. Before his election to the bench, Judge Pam ranked as one of the leading attorneys in Chicago and his course on the bench has given him more than usual prominence. The penalties he has imposed have in some instances given a first impression of being more severe than the course deserved, and in other instances seemingly an unusual leniency was shown. However, these opinions disappear with a study of the action taken.

Judge Pam, it is said, never fixes a sentence for an offender without taking into account the effect upon society. He doesn't consider the criminal alone but his surroundings, his family, the influence of his life and the effect that teh sentence may have upon others.

Because of these and other characteristics, Judge Pam is counted among the outstanding figures in welfare work.

MR. FRISCH AND HIS LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

There has been an effort in some quarters to discredit the record of Jacob Frisch as a member of the general assembly from this district. It's a hard task that has been undertaken, for Mr. Frisch has evidently been guided by a sincere desire to serve well the people of his home district and the people of the state. He has been a firm supporter of forward legisaltion for the state, and has been constantly on the alert to look after the interests of both the people of Morgan and Sangamon counties.

It has sometimes been said that Morgan county is entitled to direct representation in the legislature, and that sayinfi is true. But it can be said with equal truth that Mr. Frisch has played no favorites and that the people of this county have been shown all possible courtsey. There is every reason to believe that if returned to the legislature Mr. Frisch will continue to be an earnest, conscientious worker for the public good.

WILL BE A REAL REPRESENTATIVE

Earl B. Searcy, one of the two Republican nominees for the lower house of the General Assembly, was a doughboy in France in half a dozen front-line infantry engagements, and believes in clean fighting. His campaign has been of that character.

If elected Tuesday, he promises all the vigor and honesty that is in his make-up to the task of being a real representative. He believes in the elimination of worthless and obsolete laws, in the enactment only of such laws are as needed, and in their absolute enforcement, once enacted. His theory is that it isn't a square deal to the honest citizenship of the country and state to require the majority of people to be law-abiding, while a favored minority is permitted to repudiate our statutes. This, he says, applies to constitutional provisions as well as to laws.

BUSINESS VITALLY INTERESTED IN CHOICE OF STATE AUDITOR

The Chicago Banker yesterday had the following editorial emphasizing the importance to the state in the choice of the right man to fill the office of auditor of public accounts.

The political situation in Illinois is very complicated this year. The most partisan of newspapers are supporting split tickets with all possible vigor. The bankers of Illinois can have but one objective in the circumstances, regardless of political affiliation. The election of the right man for auditor of state is of more importance to banking and to business interests of the state than that of governor or of any other two state offices combined. The state auditor is superintendent of banking in Illinois and with hundreds of private banks in process of converting to state banks the election of Andrew Russel is of paramount importance to them.

Mr. Russel is a made-to-order candidate for them. He has been for years a private banker, knows and sympathizes with their problems and is responsible in large part for the consideration extended to them in the conversion requirements in the new law. Notwithstanding these, however, the first years under state supervision can be made difficult for them by a banking superintendent out of accord with them, or, by one who is in ignorance of their record and standing as private banks. iWth a man like Mr. Russell in the Auditor's office they will ease into their new relationship, under state supervision, with all the stumbling blocks removed.

Whatever helps these new state banks along helps the banking situation in Illinois. All bankers state, national, savings and those in alliance with banking, will be benefited in having a skilled banker for banking superintendent. Mr. Russel is a national banker and a state banker as well as a long-time private banker.

In the next few months hundreds of the best private banks in the state will have to convert to incorporated banks. In most cases the initial steps have been taken. It is of highest importance that the conversion period be passed over without friction or unnecessary delay. This can be absolutely assured by the election of Andrew Russel, as a n ex-president of the Illinois Bankers Association, to the office of Auditor of State, ex-officio state banking commissioner. Every banker in the state has a professional interest in placing a real banker in a real banking position. He can bring this about by bringing all his voting influence to ebar on the election of Andrew Russel to be Auditor of State and superintendent of banking in Illinois.

Rippling Rhymes
By Walt Mason

The Consumer.

I'm the Ultimate Consumer, and my eyes are full of tears, for I've carried all the burdens of the world, a thousand years, and I'm doomed to pack those burdens till this planet is no more, so my eyes are full of sorrow, and my heart is sick and sore. I've a right to groan and grumble and deplore my many ills, for I'm paying all the taxes, and I'm footing all the bills; to defray the world's expenses I am always sweating blood; I'm the Ultimate Consumer, and my given name is Mud. Oh, the farmer gets a rake-off when he sells a load of wheat, and the miller, white and dusty, gets a rake-off and repeat, and the jobber gets a rake-off when he sells a sack of flour, and the dealer gets a rake-off, or you'd see him looking sour; and the Ultimate Consumer, when he buys a dinky sack, has to pay these divers rake-offs, while pink pains run up his back. And they tax the woolens maker, who in commerce cuts a swath, and he hands along the taxes to the gent who buys his cloth, and this gent just hands the taxes to the fellow lower down, till they reach the busy tailor in our little country town. And the Ultimate Consumer pays the taxes in the end, when he buys a suit of raiment with a stylish Grecian Bend. I'm the Ultimate Consumer, and I sound a plaintive note; I'm the guy who pays the fiddler, I'm the universal goat.

TO OUR FELLOW CITIZENS OF MORGAN COUNTY.

We, the undersigned officers and members of the Morgan County Advisory Board of the Salvation Army appeal to you individually and collectively, on behalf of a cause we feel needs no extended plea in order to enlist your sympathy and support; we ask that you subscribe liberally to the fund now being raised for the Salvation Army.

The Board has investigated the kind of work that the Army is doing and has in prospect, and they do not hesitate to give their unqualified endorsement of the good work. There is no organization doing welfare work that is in greater public favor and gets better results on the investment than the Salvation Army.

We appeal to you as public citizens interested in the welfare of your community to contribute liberally to this great organization which plans to cooperate in the welfare of this county. The quota allotted Morgan County is but $3,800 and should be quickly subscribed.

We want to make short work of this campaign and are expecting to raise our entire quota from Nov. 3 to Nov. 7. We will not be able to muster a sufficinet number of solicitors to make a personal call on everybody. It is a great and good work and we feel that all will want a part; so we ask that you make a subscription at once, give it to someone of the uniformed solicitors or some member of the Advisory Board. If you prefer mail it to Salvation Army Campaign Headquarters in the Hopper building.

CROP INCREASE BY NEW ROTATION PLAN

Assistant Director of State Agricultural Department Claims Entire Season's Crop May be Gained by New Process in Crop Rotation.

Springfield, Ill.—An entire season's crop may be gained by farmers through a new process of crop rotaton recently discovered by the Illinois state department of agriculture, according to H. H. Parke, assisitant director of the department.

By sowing a recently developed species of sweet white clover, mixed with small grain, he said, two distinct crops may be harvested from one seeding. The nitrogen taken from the soil by the grain is restored by the clover. The land is then ready for corn the following year.

During the grain harvest the clover is not sufficiently matured to be injured. Some months later the clover furnishes a second crop.

Formerly the nitrogen repdacement required an entire year in the crop rotation scheme.

However, as yet the seed of this special clover is very scarce. Mr. Parke said that if next year should be as favorable to seed development as this past season has been, farmers might make fortunes thru sowing the clover for seed, which at present is bringing $200 per bushel, or approximately 50 cents per ounce.

Thru the efforts of the DeKalb county farm bureau large- quan tities of this seed has been sent to farmers in Idaho where the climate is ideal for its development. The seed will be returned to Illinois farmers for actual cost.

THE SENSATION OF THE CENTURY

TWO WOMEN FACED THEIR DUTIES

One was a woman of reputation whose name bore no blemish—She faced her duty and failed, resisting with might and main the call of womanhood, refusing maternity. The other bore an ill name, but in the face of the obstacles thrust in her way, she answered the call and fulfilled her duty as a woman with glorious audacity and courage.

EMPTY ARMS

STARRING GAIL KANE

With Thurston Hall, J. Herbert Frank, Irene Blackwell

This sensational film, made for men, women and children is nevertheless a glorified, idealistic presentational of motherhood. It is endorsed by ministers, doctors and club women. Many ministers have urged their congregations to see "EMPTY ARMS." It is a powerful spiritual awakening for many women, and yet, for all, it is primarily a story of dramatic situations. Other novelties. Vaudeville movies. Comedy pictures.

NEW FIRM BEGINS BUSINESS MONDAY

H. E. Wheeler Company Will Have Willard Battery Service—Will Also Handle Tires, Auto Accessories, Phonographs and Records.

Jacksonville's business growth may not be as rapid nor as spectacular as has been the case with some cities, but nevertheless there is ample evidence of steady and enduring advance. It is only necessary to run back over the past two or three years to note that despite most unfavorable building conditions Jacksonville has kept relatively apace with other cities over the country. Progress involving the expenditure of money has required careful planning, keen foresight, and not a little genuine nerve. Much more are these things true now than in really normal times.

The latest to enter the commercial life of Jacksonville is the H. E. Wheeler Company, and while the men comprising this company are not strangers to the public, having been engaged in business here in the past, their venture is an addition to the business life of the city and surrounding territory and a distinct asset to the community.

The personnel of the new company is H. E. "Dick" Wheeler,, Basil B. Sorrells, Joseph E. Boylan and H. H. Holler.

Purchase Property.

Shortly after the organization of the new company it secured by purchase the M. R. Fitch store building at 213 South Main street and the Tendick building at 215, affording ample space for carrying out the company's plans. The two buildings are joined by doorways for convenience in operating two distinct lines of business. For sometime workmen have been busily engaged fitting up the rooms for the new occupants.

The Fitch building will be devoted to office and sales room for the Willard Storage batteries while at the rear is provided an up-to-date, thoroly equipped shop. The firm will specialize in Willard service and in "everything electrical" in connection with ignition, starting, generating, wiring, etc., required in battery or car work. In this building also will be carried tires supplies and accesories pertinent to the line of business. This branch of the H. E. Wheeler Company has announced that is is ready to serve the public.

Handle Phonographs.

The Tendick building is being fitted up to handle phonographs and records. A number of ideal sound-proof booths have been built in the room, all of the most approved pattern, beautifully finished and everything possible is being done for the comfort and convenience of a music loving public. A formal announcement of this branch of the Wheeler Company will be made within a few days and an invitation extended to the public to pay them a call.

The Wheeler Company has announced that it does not intend to engage in general auto repairing, confining themselevs in this department solely to battery and electrical work, believing that in this way they can better serve the public.

Each of the men connected with the company is a thoro mechanic and skillful in the branch he will have in charge.

In addition to the personnel named, the Willard office will be in charge of Miss Oro Blair and that of the photographs and records in charge of Miss Dorothy Boylan, both young ladies are thoroly experienced and competent and well known to the business public.

HOG CHOLERA

By Frank Ridgway

Hog cholera has spread rapidly in various parts of Illinois in the last few weks, taking heavy toll. The spreading of the infection is expected because reports to S. D. Fesenden, an agricultural statistician at Springfield, indicate litle vaccination has ben done this fall.

One of the most serious things that hog feeders are confronted with is the condition of the new corn. Green corn does not cause hog cholera, but the careless use of such succulent feed may greatly increase the losses from the disease wherever the germs are present. The prevalence of cholera makes vaccination imperative.

Every hog should be made immune to cholera before being fed the new corn crop. Farmers are urged to vaccinate because of the probability that much of the crop, especially the last plantings, will not be properly ripened and hardened when given the hogs.

If the feeding is not done carefully at the btginning, hog cholera occasionally occurs in herds which have been given the "double treatment" for permanent immunity. It is dangerous to turn hogs bought on the market directly into the cornfield. The animals' vitality and power of resisting diseases are greatly lower, because the hogs are fatigued and the whole system is disturbed from vaccination, handling, and shipping. While in this condition it is injurious to allow hungry hogs to overload the stomach.

What The Manufacturers Have to Say About the Prices of

MAJESTIC RANGES

To the right is printed a letter just received from the makers of the

GREAT MAJESTIC RANGE

The price and the range is right

BUY YOUR MAJESTIC RANGE NOW

While you need it. We will refund to you the difference should the price be lowered between now and January 1, 1921.

Fair, Isn't It?

WHY MAJESTIC RANGE PRICES CANNOT BE LOWERED

There are two kinds of prices—honest prices and inflated prices.

Sound reasoning will convince anyone that honest prices on ranges cannot be lowered until material and labor is lowered.

Only prices that are inflated (too high) can be lowered today, and leave an honest profit for the manufacturer.

Majestic Range prices are honest prices, they have always been based on actual costs of material and labor, plus an honest living profit.

To lower the price of Majestic Ranges today, would be the same as saying that our prices WERE inflated, because, material that goes into our range, and labor, is not one cent less than it was when we made our last price—in fact, material is higher right now.

Iron, Steel and Copper, of world-wide demand now, show no indications of a decline.

Skilled workmen who make Majestic Ranges, have never been paid inflated wages, but have always been given honest wages based on costs of honest living. Remember this—the lowering of inflated prices and inflated wages should never be confused with honest prices and honest wages.

Majestic Ranges may seem high—and on the surface they are higher than many other ranges, but, in the long, economical service they give, THEY ARE THE LOWEST PRICED RANGE ON THE MARKET TODAY.

Forward Passes Paved the Way for the Indians to Down the Gophers After Being Outplayed in the First Quarter—Carney Scored Two Touchdowns and Fletcher Kicked a Field Goal.

URBANA, Ill., Oct. 30.—Forward passes gave Illinois a 17 to 7 victory over Minnesota today, the stonewall line of the Gophers making it necessary for the Illini to depend on aerial attack.

Illinois, favored to win easily, was outplayed in the first quarter, Minnesota carrying the ball to the fifteen yard line twice, but lacking the punch to cross the final line.

On one occasion Ecberg tried a field goal but the ball sailed wide of the posts. Walquist broke loose in the middle of the second quarter and had a clear field ahead when he fell losing a chance for an Illinois touchdown. A few moments later however, he shot a pass to Carney for a touchdown and shortly after the play was repeated for a second touchdown.

Ralph Fletcher kicked both goals.

Minnesota's touchdown came in the third period after a long pass, Ruben to Eckberg the latter going over for the score. Ralph Fletcher tried to kick field goal three times in the final period the third attempt being successful.

INDIANA DEFEATED NORTHWESTERN 10-7

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 30.—Indiana won its second conference football game of the season here today beating Northwestern 10 to 7. A place kick from the twenty-five yard line in the third period by Risley gave Indiana the edge. A fumble on the twenty yard line, three minutes after the game started resulted in Northwestern scoring its touchdown. Soon afterwards Mathys for Indiana accepted a forward pass behind the Northwestern's goal.

FORWARD PASSING WINS FOR MICHIGAN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 30.—Superior forward passing combined with the weight of Michigan's back field enabled the Wolverines to defeat Tulane university 21 to 0 on Ferry Field this evening. The New Orleans eleven showed surprising strength in the opening and held Michigan scoreless. Most of the play was in Tulane territory. A 45 yard run in the third period and one for 40 yards in the final quarter by Jack Perrin, both of which produced touchdowns featured the game.

ELEVEN VETERANS ON KNOX COLLEGE TEAM

Galesburg, Ill.—Eleven members of the Knox college varsity football squad are better men and have played on previous Knox teams. Coach Sam Barry is therefore not disturbed this year over the lack of experienced players. In the two games which the Siwash team has played so far this year, these eleven veterans have composed the line-up at the beginning of the contest, so the team may truly be called an experienced outfit. Nine of these first team men were members of last year's star aggregation and the other two men playtd on the S. A. T. C. eleven of 1918.

With this seasoned material and the usual number of freshmen prospects, the Knox coach expects to turn out a strong team, even though it cannot duplicate the record of 1919 Knox team. The latter won all of the eight games it played and scored a total of 355 points to its opponents' seven, defeating teams from Beloit, Lake Forest, Augustana, Cornell and other colleges of equal rank. Although Knox was defeated several weeks ago by Northwestern university by a 14 to 0 score, Coach Barry is inclined to feel proud of the showing his team made against the university eleven, especially in view of the latter's 17 to 0 defeat of the Minnesota team last Saturday.

Captain Imig, of Des Plaines, in the backfield and Campbell and Shafer, both of Galesburg, in the line are the mainstays of the 1920 team and are men around whom Coach Barry is building his attack. The latter two men have played the tackle positions for two years, and are a tower of strength in both offensive and defensive play. Campbell was picked in the Illinois All-College state team last year and Imig and Shafer were both placed on the second team. Captain Imig is one of the best defensive fullbacks who has ever worn the Knox colors and is also a line plunger of unusual ability.

Welch at quarterback and Ludwick at right half are former Moline high school stars who have had two years of experience in college football. Welch has directed the Knox team for two years and Ludwick has played one year at Knox and one year with the Northewestern university freshmen team. Crabbe of New London, Ia., plays the other halfback position and Morrison and Pritchard, both of Galesburg, occupy the wing positions. Field and Bergstrom, both played last year as guards, but Field has been shifted to the pivot position this fall and Olin, a 212 pound lineman, is being used as the other guard.

Promising freshmen candidates for the team are, Brown of Clinton, Adams and Stuart, of Galesburg, for the backfield, and Rankin of Vermont, Roch of Keokuk, Ia., and Kost of Galesburg, for positions in the line.

OHIO DOWNS CHICAGO IN FOURTH PERIOD

Marons Entered the Last Quarter, Leading by a Score of 6 to 0, With Only a Few Minutes to Play, the Buckeyes Shoved Over a Touchdown and Kicked Goal.

Stag Field, Chicago, Oct. 30.—A plunge across Chicago's goal from the one-yard line, by Charles Taylor, Ohio's 165 pound fullback in the last few minutes of play, gave Ohio state a sensational 7 to 6 victory over Chicago before 27,000 persons today after Ohio entered the fourth period, beaten 6 to 0. The victory of the undefeated Ohio eleven, runner-up in the 1919 championship race eliminated Chicago from the 1920 championship.

The play that started the defeat of Chicago was made by Myers, the Buckeye left end, who grabbed a poor punt on Chicago's 40-yard line and raced to the thirty-yard line before being thrown out of bounds.

"Hoge" Workman, the Ohio quarter, thrilled the crowd with a 25-yard forward pass to his brother, Noel, who had relieved Slyker at right end, and who brought the ball to Chicago's ten yard line. Taylor, the fullback, ripped off four yards thru the line and on the next two plays went over for a touchdown.

"Hoge" Workman kicked goal. The spectacular ending came with the eight minutes remaining to play and gave the huge crowd a chance to give vent to its enthusiasm which had been held in check by the dogged fight.

JACKSONVILLE LOST TO QUINCY HIGH

Locals Lose Battle by Score 28 to 0—Team Did Not Play Up to Its Past Form.

Coach Mitchell's high school football team met defeat at the hands of Quincy High in that city Saturday afternoon, the final score being 28 to 0. The locals did not display the form the form they showed in the game with Peoria Manual a week ago. The men did not seem to put much "pep" in their playing except in early part of the game. Then they fore holes in the Quincy line but did not keep up their work long enough to score.

Quincy had a strong line but a poor backfield. The locals missed several forward passes when the runner had a clear field which have resulted in a touchdown.

The team came out of the game in good shape with the exception of Hackett, who suffered a sprained ankle. Coach Mitchell will drive the men hard the coming week in preparation for the game with Waverly here next Saturday.

Coach Chenoweth of Waverly journeyed to Quincy Saturday to see the Jacksonville team in action. His team did not have a game yesterday so will be in the pink for the Jacksonville game.

NOTRE DAME DOWNS THE ARMY 27-17

WEST POINT, Oct. 30.—The Army went down to defeat for first time this year when the fast and powerful Notre Dame team won today 27 to 17, in an exciting and hard fought battle.

The cadets led for three quarters of the game, but Notre Dame's attack overcame the lighter Army men in the final period and the Hoosiers were able to register the two touchdowns which gave them the game.

HARVARD SMOTHERED VIRGINIA 25 to 0

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 30.—Harvard rolled up three touchdowns and a field goal against the University of Virginia today, winning 25 to 0. Altho the visitors showed proficiency in the overhead game their offense vanished at Harvard's 25-yard line. The Crimson played the game almost entirely with subtitutes, who found some difficulty early in the game in stopping the forward passes and end runs of the visitors.

PLAY FOOTBALL BY AUTO LIGHT

One of the most unique football games ever played was the contest at Palmyra Saturday between Palmyra and Mt. Olive high school teams.

The Mt. Olive team did not arrive until after 5 o'clock. The teams went on the field at 5:45 o'clock and regulation fifteen minute periods were played.

Automobiles which surrounded the field turned on their headlights and furnished light for the players. Forward passing was impossible but both teams played straight football. The final score was 98 to 0 in favor of Palmyra.

PITTSFIELD WINS FROM HANNIBAL

Pittsfield high won from Hannibal high at Pittsfield Saturday by a score of 21 to 14. Hannibal was unable to make any headway against the Pittsfield line and her two scores came as the result of forward passes.

Pittsfield's back field tore up the Hannibal line, Walsh making long gains repeatedly. Coach Harmon of Illinois College was the referee.

LAST BALL GAME OF SEASON TODAY

Indees Will Hook Up With Athletics This Afternoon—Both Teams Will Present Strongest Lineup.

What probably will be the last baseball game of the 1920 season will be played at South Side park this afternoon when the Indees will have Charley White's Athletics as opponents.

The Athletics have some of the best local players in the city in their lineup. Among them are Zell, Burkery and Devlin, who are nifty ball players. The other members of the team are also players of class.

For some time they have wanted to play a game with the Indees in order to show at home but this is the first time Manager Smith has been able to arrange a date.

Smith will present his regular lineup for the game today with Wright or Hamm on the mound and Clark behind the bat. The Athletics will have either McDaniell of Chapin or Justice on the rubber, with Zell on the receiving end.

Play will be called at 2:15 o'clock and Walter Ely will umpire.

J. E. OSBORNE

Republican Candidate for County Commissioner

He is a man you can trust in any position. Mr. Osborne has no other desire than to serve the people well. He will do that very thing if given your vote next Tuesday.

Lee Tires ask no favors of the road.

On rough country roads their tough treads travel almost unharmed over sharp and jutting points that would tear the heart out of less sturdy tires. On paved streets and boulevards Lee Tires wear down surprisingly and pleasingly slow.

If you knew how to make tires and none but the best would satisfy you, the Lee Tire is the kind you'd build.

So thoroughly good are Lee Tires that you'll get an entirely new idea of tire mileage and satisfaction from the first one you try. Let us show you why.

The program committeess under the able chairmanship of Hugh Green are planning and have under way a very impressive service that day which will take the form of the dedication and planting of the first trees on Victory Drive at the New Lake.

This kind of a service is certainly in keeping with the day and as all the different organizations in the county are invited to take part in the service and to plant a tree in their name, the attendance should be large. The parents and relatives of soldiers of soldiers are also invited to plant trees in some soldier's name. Those not otherwise provided for will be planted by the Service Star Legion. WANTS NO MORTGAGE PLACED ON AMERICA

Senator Harding Made Great Speche at Winfield—Jacksonville Man One of the Auditors.

When in Winfield, Kan., recently, M. O. Mathews had the pleasure of hearing Senator Harding make a brief address from the platform of the train on which he was traveling. Mr. Mathews has read a number of the public statements of the candidates, but was more impressed with the Kansas utterances than the speeches he has read.

The Winfield Daily Courier gave an extended report of the reception accorded Senator Harding and a report of his address. The paragraphs below are taken from the Courier:

"To pass on to the young people of this generation the same America we received from our fathers,' was outlined as the paramount principle of Americanism in the speech of Senator Harding to the people of Winfield delivered in the few minutes his train stopped here Saturday forenoon. He declared he did not believe in and would not countenance "a mortagaged America" giving over to a council sitting at Geneva, Switzerland, the authority to determine what America must do in any crisis which might arise in the world. The Senator, in utter fearlessness of the charge that has been made by his opponent, declared without hesitation that he believed in a policy of "America First."

The crowd which heard Senator Harding here filled an area equal to nearly a quarter of an acre. The lowest estimate of the number was fifteen hundred, and it was probably two thousand.

Senator Harding's special train arrived at South Warfield at 11:35. Warning of the approach of his train had been given by blowing the fire whistle and ringing the fire bell half an hour before. The area surrounding the station for several blocks in every direction was packed with automobiles and the platforms were thronged by the waiting people. The Senator was on the rear platform as the train pulled in. With him were Mrs. Harding, Congressman Campbell and members of the Cowley county committee of welcome.

The Senator was greeted with hearty applause and happy smiles of welcome. The crowd realized the brevity of the time for the talk the Senator was to give, and cut the applause short in the anxiety to hear as much as possible. J. A. McDermott of the welcoming committee waved his hand for quiet and at once introduced "The Mistress of the White House, on March 4th next, Mrs. Harding." Mrs. Harding responded with a joyous saluation with her hand. In two brief sentences Mr. McDermott then introduced "The Next President of the United States, Warren G. Harding.' Cheers, hand clapping and waving of handkerchiefs greeted the speaker.

After the usual complimentary opening sentences, Mr. Harding went direct to the question of the League of many young people and children with their bright eyes and their hopeful outlook the Senator said it is the paramount duty of Americans of today to pass on to these young Americans the same America we received from our fathers. "We must not mortgage this America and place the direction of its affairs in the hands of a council of foreigners sitting in Geneva, Switzerland," he said.

"America must determine her future course of action in her own way, in the perfect freedom of action she has always exercised. I do not mean by that that we must not do our part in the world's affairs. Nor does it require compulsion to make us do our part. We did our part in the World War, without compulsion, did we not (Cries of yes, yes, you bet we did) We did not have a contract then, did we? We do not need a contract now. We need no contract except that between ourselves and God—Almighty!

"When the Republican administration takes charge of this government next March I pledge you a return to constitutional government. It will be a government for 'America First' In each world crisis which shall arise we will determine for ourselves what is the right thing to do and we will do it as we done it in the past, with our whole heart and soul."

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG COMING TO LUTTRELLS

"The Forbidden Woman," which is to be Clara Kimball Young's next vehicle, and which comes to Luttrell's Monday and Tuesday, is actually based on the life of a famous European prima donna, whose name figured in French and Italian newspapers for many months just previous to the outbreak of the war.

Lenore J. Coffey, authoress of the story, was at the time of the wide publication a resident of Naples, Italy. She was living at Bertolini's Palace hotel, far up the side of a mountain, just opposite of Mount Vesuvius, and overlooking the Bay of Naples. In an adjoining suite was a mysterious young lady, who was rarely seen at meals, and who spent most of her day on an iron balcony, and most of the time sobbing or crying.

Miss Coffey, who was doing journalistic work, inquired as to the identity of the young lady who seemed so beautiful yet so sad, and was informed that she was the noted prima donna, principal in the case then occupying public atention all over the continent, and that she had not only retired from public life, but that she has sacrificed a most promising career in opera. Miss Coffey, through the usual repertorial method, secured an interview—won the confidence of the beautiful singer—and "The Forbidden Woman" was the result.

Even today, if one should pass along the Piazzo Amedeo, far up toward Vomera, hundreds of yards above the lovely city of Naples, and pass the house, opposite Pension Pinto Storey, they would see, at a window overlooking the bay, this self same sad girl, grown older but beautiful and still hiding from an intolerant public.

Thrills in "Vanishing Trails" Start Right at the Beginning.

Seldom does a serial set the pace with its thrills and startling situations in the first few episodes. This is the factor which proves the "Vanishing Trails,' a fifteen episode serial produced by Colonel William N. Selig, featuring Franklyn Farnum, now showing at the Rialto theater every Wednesday stand out as one of the most unusual and best of serial pictures.

The first two episodes keep the spectator at edge at all times. A murder is committed and coupled with the mystery are some breath-taking stunts which make one gasp.

Then the spectator is put into a field of fast action, as after the murder is committed in the East, the story rapidly shifts to the far west, where in the land of vanishin gtrails, even more mystery is apparent.

FARM INSTITUTE ENDS AT BLUFFS; PREMIUM AWARDS

Annual Event in Scott ounty Comes To Successful Close on Friday.

Bluffs, Oct. 30.—The Scott County Farmers Institute was held Thursday and Friday at Lewis' Hall. A splendid crowd was in attendance at all four meetings and the display both by the farmers and Household Science Department was the best we have ever had, thus showing that interest in our Institute is growing. The musical numbers consisted of piano and vocal duets, violin solos, and vocal solos were furnished by Mrs. Corbridge, Misses Zela Mueller, Vera McCaleb and Helen Rockwood. Each one was enjoyed very much and greatly appreciated. Mre. Frederick A. Dow gave two splendid addresses one in the afternoon "The Business of the Household" and one in the evening "The Civic Call of Women." Both were splendid. She was judge of the fancy work and in the baking department. C. W. Farr, ounty Life Director of Cook county certainly is a live wire and entertained the crowd at both meetings on the subjects of "Make More From Your Poultry" and "The Economy of the Household."

Walter H. Rowe talked on "Better Farms and Better Farmers" in the afternoon.

Friday Mrs. Grace Viall Gray gave two addresses "The Signs of the Times" and "The Duties and Responsibilities of the Women of Today." She judged the fruits, pickles and vegetables. A. W. Brayton told value of fruit on the farm and Frank Drury explained the "Care and Feeding of Swine." In the evening Mr. Kendall, farm advisor of Morgan county gave us information on "What Our Farm Bureaus Are Doing." This is a subject in which we are all very much interested at present.

ADAM DUNCAN, NOTED HORTICULTURIST, DIES

Hillingdon, England—(By Associated Press.)—Adam Duncan, Fellow of the Royal Horticultural Society, who has just died here at the age of 80, is said to have been largely responsible for the introduction of the tomato as an edible fruit. The tomato had long been grown for decorative purposes but Mr. Duncan by means of hybridization evolved it from its crinkled woolly state to the smooth-skinned fruit.

Bake Without The "AKE"

YOU know the result of constantly stooping over an ordinary low oven—the blood rushes to your head, the heat rolls out in your face, you rise with a "kink" in your back, and have that disagreeable dizzy feeling. Haven't you had that experience?

That's why the LEONARD HI-OVEN RANGE, with its shoulder-high oven, is nearer the heart of the woman who owns one than anything else in her kitchen—it saves her strength and makes her most important task a genuine pleasure.

Here Are Four Other Things You'll Like About the Leonard Hi-Oven Range

Quick Heating: Oven begins to heat the moment the fire is lighted—no wasted "chimney heat." Hot enough to bake in ten minutes. The oven of a Leonard Hi-Oven Coal or Wood Range heats to baking temperature more quickly than the oven of a gas range. The heat travels upward and heats the oven quickly without waste.

Fuel Saving: The fuel you save will pay for the range. Here's what Royal H. Holbrook (Combustion Engineer, Iowa State College) says about the Leonard Hi-Oven Range: "It is possible to save 50% in fuel as compared to the low-oven range. The construction of the fire-box and draft are such that perfect combustion is very nearly obtained."

Better Baking: The baking doesn't have to be turned, because the heat is carried upward around the oven in such a way as to heat it evenly on all sides. Unnecessary to open the oven door—prevents many a baking failure.

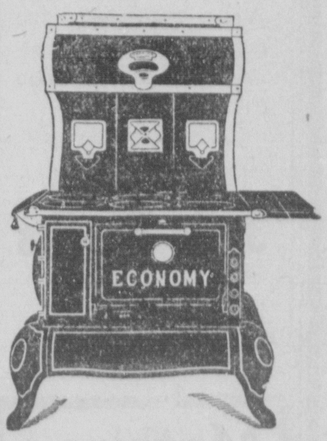

Space Saving: The Leonard Hi-Oven Range is a boon in the small kitchen—extreme measurements of the model shown only 36" x 36". Saves a third or more floor space and has ample cooking and baking space. Handsome in design, also, and adds to the attractiveness of any kitchen.

Let Us Tell You More About It

Without obligating yourself in any way to buy, we want you to see the Leonard Hi-Oven Range. We know when you've seen it you'll want it, and you won't be satisfied with any other type.

IRELAND HAS NEW UNDER SECRETARY

Believed That It Means Proceeding With Home Rule Bill.

DUBLIN. — (By The A. P.)—The appointment of Sir Ernest Clarke as a new nder Secretary in Ireland specialy for the Northeast area, is regarded here as showing the intention of the government to proceed with its Home Rule bill. The essential feature of that bill is the provision of two parliaments in Ireland and so long as the Coalition government lasts it is expected to insist on preserving the separate treatment of Northeast lster. Since it is contemplated to have a parliament in working order in Belfast early next year, whatever the rest of Ireland does, it is obviously convenient to have during the interval an official administration which will lead up to the change.

The plan of enrolling "well disposed citizens in Belfast to assist the authorities,' which means the recognition in some form of the Ulster Unionist organization and its Volunteers, is looked at here from the same point of view. It is vigorously denounced by the Nationalists thruout Ireland as a yielding by the government to Sir Edward Carson. In the view of the government it is merely an anticipation by a few months of the powers which operation te Belfast government will have when the Home Rule Bill comes into operation. The belief is that the recognized existence of such a force would tend to check the rioting of irrensponsible people. Tho the government decisions will be agreeable to Unionist Belfast they have disheartened southern Unionists who see that they point to partition.

ILLINOIS WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

In the October number of Religious Education, the journal of the Religius Education association, there is a very interesting and thoughtful article by Prof. Neville on "Methods of Teaching Bible in College." This article was read before the annual convention of the Religious Education association at Pittsburgh last spring and has been thes ubject of much favorable comment.

The Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church has just issued in pamphlet form the paper read by President Harker at the meeting of the Methodist College association last spring. The board first published the paper in the Christian Student, and now issue this special edition, making all together about 50,000 copies of the paper which have been distributed throughout the church. The suggestions made in this paper were formally adopted by the Methodist College association and resulted in some far reaching changes in the policy of the church through the action of the General Conference at Des Moines last May.

Mrs. Margaret J. Hamman of Meredosia visited the college on Wednesday. Mrs. Hamman has been a good friends of the college for many years and is always very welcome.

Miss Edna L. Storrs of the department of home economics was called to her home in Kankakee by the death of her aunt.

Miss Marjorie Taylor of Ashland was a visitor at the college Friday night. She came to attend the Max well concert.

The College Glee club gave a stunt in the social room on Thursday night. It consisted in the singing of parodies of many of the popular songs. The affair was concluded by a general college sing.

Mrs. Morgan of Rock Island, who is attending the sessions of the Public Welfare convention, is a guest of Miss Eleanor Thompson, the librarian.

The chemistry students had a special table in the dining room Thursday night. Test tubes were used as torches, beakers for glasses and many other clever ideas were successfully worked out.

The Athletic association gave the Hallowe'en party in the gymnasium on Saturday night. The usual decorations, stunts. costumes and refreshments gave the never failing surprises and good times.

GUS HILL COMING IN SHOW ABOUT JONESES

Another show sponsored and presented by that most resourceful and versatile of modern managers, GUS HILL, ic underlined as the next attraction at Grand theatre Monday night with usual matinee. The show bears the title of "KEEPING UP WITH THE JONESES" and is based on the popular and ever-divergent cartoons of POP MOMAND which are published in our well-known dailies throughout this country and elsewhere. The new offering is in three acts and enjoys the distinction of being an entertainment along lines different from the conventional productions one is compelled to sit through in these fin de siecle days of competition and oft repeated-changing fashions. Exclusive music and other novelties dominate. A particular feature is the beauty chorus of young women. They do not have to depend on their good looks alone to win approval. They are talented and versatile which is certainly something to gloat over at least.

Pale, sallow skins

The new steam treatment for them

If your skin is pale and colorless, try this new steam treatment for it. Steam penetrates the skin in a way water alone cannot do. It enables you to cleanse thoroughly the pores that have become clogged, to stimulate inactive blood vessels and give the skin new color.

To make your skin soft and colorful, one night a week fill your bowl full of hot water—almost boiling hot. Bend over the top of the bowl and cover your head and the bowl with a heavy bath towel, so that no steam can escape. This opens the pores wide, stimulates the tiny blood vessels of the face and brings the blood to the surface.

Now lather a hot cloth with Woodbury's Facial Soap. With this, wash your face thoroughly, rubbing the lather well into the skin in an upward and outward motion. Then rinse the skin well, first with warm water, then with cold, and finish by rubbing it for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. This closes the pores and makes the skin firm in texture.

The very first time you use this Woodbury steam treatment, your skin will begin to show more color. The other six nights of the week, cleanse your skin thoroughly in the usual way with Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water.

Get a cake of Woodbury's and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's Facial Soap on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

WOULD REQUIRE LIBRARIANS TO HAVE STATE CERTIFICATES

Springfield, Ill. — Proposed legislation compelling every person accepting a position as librarian in Illinois to obtain a state certificate similar to that now required by teachers, has been drawn up by the legislative committee of the Illinois Librarians' association, and will be presented to the next legislature.

According to Miss Anna May Price of the state library extension commission and chairman of the legislative committee, the proposed bill will prevent persons unfitted for the duties of Librarian, from obtaining positions. At present there are no restrictions.

Members of the committee working with Miss Price for this new law include P. L. Windsor of the state university library; Carl Roden of the Chicago public library; Mary J. Booth, Charleston Normal, and Mrs. Everett, trustee of the Kewanee Public library.

POINTS TO DEFECTS IN PEACE LEAGUE

Nicholas Murray Butler Says Republican Party Can Be Depended Upon to Preserve American Traditions.

NEW LONDON, Conn.,—(By The Associated Press.)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, New York, in an address here tonight pointed out what he called defects in the present League of Nations covenant and recommended adjustment of international difficulties thru a tribunal patterned after, but amplifying, that of The Haugue.

A Republican administration headed by Mr. Harding, he said, would not in any respect shirk its duty as one of the family of nations, tho it would not become a member of the existing League.

"They are mistaken who think that the Republican party when again entrusted with the responsibility for the administration of the government will enter upon any backward path," he declared, "The spirit of porgress, of ambition to serve, of zeal to solve the great and vexatious problems which confront the people, are in full possession of the Republican party of 1920.

Confidence In Republicans.

"For one I am confident that when the reins of government shall pass into Republican hands on March 4 next, the ripest wisdom, the widest experience and the best talent which the country affords will be called to assist in shaping those policies which shall hasten a solution of the people's problems and a meeting of the people's needs.

"No party, no government, can accomplish the impossible, but the Republican party may confidently be trusted to open in 1921 a new era in the history of our country, and to make powerful and permanent contribution to the cause of international peace and concord world's satisfaction and happiness without in any way lessening the control of the American people over their own policies and acts, and without in any way bending or breaking the Constitution of the United States, the sheet anchor of our ship of state."

Mr. Butler asserted that much discussion of campaign affairs has no reference to great present issues, which, he said, are only two in number, as follows:

"The relation which the people of the United States are to bear to other nations and to those movements of political and economic opinion that are common to civilized peoples thruout the world, and,

"The relative fitness of the Democratic and Republican parties to uphold and defend the American form of government and to deal in truly constructive and courageous fashion, with the problems of taxation, of cost of living, of transportation, of labor, of housing, of public health and of adminstrative efficiency which immediately confront the American people."

Pointing out the record of the United States as a leader in world movements for international settlements under codified law, he reviewed the country's correspendence with foreign nations under Presidents McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft relative to the series of Hague conferences, and criticized those who refer disparagingly of the Hague Tribunal on the ground that it failed to prevent the European war.

He said that in 1914, "tho the fact is not generally known," a definite plan to strengthen the tribunal with the establishment of an International High Court of Justice was "under consideration by the governments of Europe and the United States, with every prospect of agreement.'

At the end of the war," he declared, "President Wilson 'made a capital error of judgment' in going in person to conduct peace negotiations in Paris. This, he said, made necessary the like attendance of heads of other nations, involved, with the result that they "lost contact with their immediate advisers, with their parliaments and with their peoples."

Peace Settlement a Blunder.

The peace settlement, he said, coming under the pressure of the times, and in settlement of the issues of war, was a mistake.

"This procedure, far from being a triumph of statesmanship," he added, "was a blunder of the first magnitude and is chiefly responsible for the unhappy events of the past two years, for the outbreak of a dozen minor wars, for the delay in economic reconstruction, and for the feelings of despair and despondency that have settled down over so much of the world.

"So anxious was the world for peace, however, that nation after nation approved the covenant for a league of nations without hesitation and without serious debate.'

Mr. Butler suggested that the Republican National platform offers a policy, alternative to the League, to "accomplish the same ends in what is believed to be a far better and far wiser way."

Not Partisan Issue.

"It is not true that Republican objections to the covenant submitted are merely partisan, narrow-minded and selfish," he asserted.

"It is not true that Republican policy contemplated deserting our Allies and associates in the war, and bearing no part in the task of rebuilding the broken world.

"It is not true that Republican policy would make no sacrifice for liberty and justice, and would refuse operation to make the world a better and happier place in which to live.

"It is not true taht Republican policy would take the incredibly stand and reactionary course of attempting to play an isolated part in the world and look with indifference on suffering or wrong doing or on infractions of international law unless these should directly affect our national pride or our national pocketbook.

"The established policy of the Republican party points the way to such remodeling of the covenant for a league of nations as will bring it into accord with American principles, with established interests, without damage or injustice to any other nation.

Sustaining American Tradition.

"The people of the United States should understand that in opposing the covenant in the form submitted by the President, the Republican party is sustaining and not abandoning traditional American policy in respect of international cooperation and the preservation to international peace, and that it is steadfastly clinging to the high ideals and purpores which the American people have so often revealed in their international sympathies and their international relations.

"The Republican party, however, intends to walk foward the goal in a wise and safe, instead of unwise and unsafe path.

"No permanent progress ever results from attempting too much or from getting out of step with the sober and judicious opinion of the world. There is no pure method of abolishing international war until human nature be abolished at the same time. All that can be done is to labor to remove the causes of international war and to put such checks upon those human tendencies and passions which usually bring wars about as to make it increasingly difficult for them to operate to the disturbance of the world's peace."

KAISER EXPECTED TO WIN WORLD WAR

Intended to Lead Armies Against England in Second Punic War —Prussian Guards Wiped Out Democracy.

Berlin.—The former German Emperor William confidently expected to emerge victoriously from the world war and then marshal his continental armies against England in what he termed "the second Punic war," says Mathias Erzberger, in his volume of war recollections just published at Stuttgart. The Eemperor evidently used the term "Punic war" in the sense of conflict for world supremacy between two great nations.

Erzberger, who was formerly minister of finances, but now has temporarily retired from public political activities, set forth in detail the meeting between the then Emperor William and the Reichstag leaders, after the fall of Chancellor Bethmann Hollweg, and following the adoption of the peace resolution in July 1917.

He says the Emperor became enthusiastic over the phrase "peace or compromise,' which he assumed was what the Reichstag majority demanded. "Excellent word 'compromise;" William stated. "It means,' he said. "that we take the money, raw products, cotton, oil and ores out of the pockets of our enemies and transfer them to our own."

Leaders Astonished.

The Parliamentary leaders, Herr Erzberger says, were astonished by this unexpected display of imperial mentality and felt that they were being made the victims of his mockery. The Emperor's further remarks were in the same channel, he declares.

William asserted that the United States and England had entered into an alliance for the purpose of reckoning with Japan after the war. He was also reliably informed that Russia would join Japan in warding off the Anglo-Saxon blow. He admitted that England would not emerge from the war defeated but said the final accounting would come when he led his continental armies against her in "the second Punic war.

The amazement of the Parliamentarians grew apace as the Kaiser, continued Erzberger reports. The monarch asserted that "a complete undertsanding would be reached with France when the war was over."

Referring to the battle in Galiacia, which occurred only a few days previous, the Kaiser claimed that the Prussian guard under the command of his son Fritz had brushed the democratic dust off the vest of the Russians.'

"Wherever the Guards appear there is no longer any democracy left,' he exclaimed.

The Rumanians got their just deserts, the warlord told Erzberger when the latter suggested that the poor Rumanians had probably lost everything but their shirts.

Erzberger adds that the whole meeting between the Kaiser and the Parliamentary leaders was not only a grave misfortune but it proved "the deepest cut with the spade that ultimately resulted in the overthrow of the prevailing regime."

He concludes the chapter with the statement that the Reichstag veterans, who up to that time were opposed to the parliamentary system, that very night openly avowed that the old system would inevitably plunge Germany into disaster.

THREE INAPPROPRIATE NAMES FOR A FAMILIAR ARTICLE

"Storage" Battery is a Misnomer and so Are Some of the other Names it is Called

"It's funny how car owners call their storage batteries names when they fail to perform the duties for which they were intended," said Mr. Dowdall, manager of the Prest-O-Lite Service Station at 218 So. Main St. recently. "Nine times out of ten it is the owner who should be called names for not giving his battery proper attention.

"Be that as it may, the storage battery is one of the most inappropriately named parts of the car. Contrary to the generally accepted opinion, it doesn't store electricity. It generates current through the chemical action of a sulphuric acid solution on the lead plates.

"But why, you may ask, must the battery be charged with electricity before it will give out electricity Simply this, the passing of an electric current thru the battery is necessary to put the plates and electrolyte in the proper chemical condition for the production of electricity. This is what charging does—changes the lead sulphate in the negative plates into spongy lead and the lead sulphate in the positive plates into lead peroxide. In these operations acid is formed and goes back into the electrolyte.

"That is the action stated in its simplest form. Discharging results in the reverse action. You don't fill the battery with electricity and use it until it's gone; you treat its chemicals with electricity so that it will produce electricity.

"The English call a storage battery an accumulator, but that's no improvement for it doesn't accumulate any more than it stores. The scientific term is 'secondary cell,' but as it isn't at all descriptive, it is never likely to become popular. So I reckon 'storage batteries' will continue to supply starts and lights for automobiles whether that name is accurate or not."

FARMERS MAY AVOID FARM LABOR SHORTAGE

Director of Farm Labor in Illinois Urges Farmers to Provide Winter Quarters for Men, Thus Stabilizing Labor Condtions in State.

Springfield, Ill.—Shortage of farm labor next spring may be avoided by Illinois farmers if they provide winter quarters for the men who are with them this fall, according to Barney Cohen, direceor of labor of Illinois. This, he said will do much toward stabilizing labor conditions throughout the state.

"One of the chief conditions affecting labor has to do with housing," Mr. Cohen said. "There is a big demand for fall workers on farms, particularly for corn husking. In many cases the demand is for married men. In each case suitable housing has to provided. But inevitably in the fall the farm labor is returned to the city, to spend the winter in town. This is bound to increase the demand for houses in the cities and towns, to the consequent detriment of the regular town or city worker.

"Now if the farmers of Illinois were to make extra effort to provide suitable living quarters for help through the winter, it would not only be of great assistance to solving the housing problem in cities and towns, but more than all else the farmer would have help right at hand when it comes it comes time to begin farming in the spring.

"Only employment men in close touch with labor conditions can realize the frantic appeals that are put forth every spring to get in touch with farm labor. It certainly would pay the farmer to provide a home of some kind for the fall workers who would be glad to stay thru the winter."

For Beauty's Sake

Remove that film-coat from your teeth

Teeth cannot glisten with a film-coat on them. You who want white teeth must learn how to remove it.

This week your druggist offers—free—a new way of teeth cleaning. Millions now employ it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Go make that test. One week's results will be a revelation.

Film—the great enemy

Dut this is more than a beauty question. Film ruins millions of teeth. Most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste cannot end it, so the tooth brush has left much of it intact.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. All these troubles have been constantly increasing, because brushing failed to end that film.

Now a new dental era

Dental science, after years of research, has found ways to combat film day by day. The methods have been proved efficient by many careful tests. High authorities endorse them. And millions of people now employ them, largely by dental advice.

These methods are combined in a tooth paste called Pepsodent. Together they combat the film as nothing else has done. And they are fast bringing, the world over, a new era in teeth cleaning.

That is the tooth paste you are urged to test. See the instant results—watch the effects for ten days. Then decide for yourself between the old ways and the new.

The unique effects

One ingredient of Pepsodent is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest starch deposits that cling. The alkalinity of the saliva is multiplied also. That to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay.

Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere.

The Pepsodent effects come with every application. Day by day they fight the teeth's great enemies. And teeth are protected as they never were before.

See and feel it act

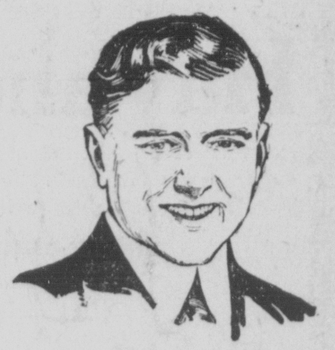

Present this coupon for the 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

The results are quick and apparent. A little book tells the reasons for them. For your own sake learn how much they mean.

FREE

This week only

At any drug store named below, a 10-day tube of Pepsodent. Simply present the coupon. Let this new way prove itself. Judge by results what it means to you. Learn now the way that millions know to whiter, safer teeth.

Now daily used by millions

Millions of people are now using Pepsodent. You can see the results wherever you look—in glistening teeth

Women who think their teeth white now should see how they look with the film gone.

With men who smoke the films are apt to be particularly discolored. They will see the most conspicuous results

But children need Pepsodent most. Their teeth are most subject to decay. Dentists advise that Pepsodent be daily applied from the time the first tooth appears. It may save them troubles life-long in effect.

Daily Market Report

STOCK MARKET FIRM SATURDAY

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Stocks were firm to strong in the early stages of today's brief session, a moderate inquiry for the more representative rails, shippings and oils imparting stability to related issues.

The latest turn of events in the Mexican situation contributed measurably to the strength of Southern Pacific and one of its important subsidiaries, Associated Oil. American Smelting also benefitting for similar reasons Steels, equipmentss and other industrials of the class most often favored by speculative interests were more or less neglected while motor specialties, particularly rubber issues yielded to superinduced by adverse trade conditions. Sales amouited to 225,000 shares.

There was little in the day's news to change sentiment from its recent pessimism.

Comment on business prospects by the commercial agencies referred to an expansion of the retrograde movement and foreign exchange was weak, reflecting disturbing industrial advices from France and Belgium.

The clearing house statement was favorable in that an increase of almost 38,000,000 in actual cash reserves effted last week's large deficit and left an excess of $14,000,000. Another item was the further reduction of total loans and discounts by almost $62,000,000, a total of about $153,000,000 in the last fortnight.

Liberty bonds and other active domestic issues were steady. In the foreign division Mexican fives were the strong feature European issues showing little alteration. Total sales (par value) $5,675,000.

WHEAT MARKET WAS ERRATIC

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. — The wheat market was erratic all day and the final sinking spell was due to unloading by pit longs who bought earlier on the corn strength. Last prices were 1 to 1¼c lower with December $2.08½ to $2.09 and March $2.02 to $2.02¼; corn was up ¾c to 1¼c, oats were ¾c to ⅞c higher and provisions were generally lower, prices ranging from unchanged to 50c down.

Interest in the wheat market was the lighest of the week. Business was mainly of a local character and the price ranged within an advance of a cent and a loss of a fraction lower than yesterday's finish. There was an absence of seaboard buying to an extent but there was enough absorption on weak spots to steady the market.

Heavy short covering was noted in the corn pit thruout the session owing to the improved shipping demand and lighter receipts.

The close was at the best prices of the day.

Reports of charters to move corn via the gulf were influential in advancing prices. Trade was only moderate.

Oats sold at the best prices of the week today and closed at the best of the day, the gain lower, being only fractional as the trade was light.

There was only a moderate trade in provisions and confined mostly to lard, of which offerings were quite free but buyers scarce.

MOTION PICTURES AT BROOKLYN CHURCH

The new Safety cinema motion picture machine will be initiated at Brooklyn church Sunday evening, Oct. 31, with a one-reel picture entitled, "David and Goliath," portraying the Biblical account of the famous duel between the little shepherd lad and the big Philistine giant, in which David conquers with a sling and a stone. This reel will introduce the service. At the close, a solo will be sung, "While God's Eye Is On the Sparrow," illustrated with ten colored stereopticon slides. This safety cinema is called a "motion picture machine with a conscience," because it uses films that are practically non-inflammable and thus complies with the law, but also because it will show only films that will be wholesome and helpful and safe for everybody to see, including the growing boys and girls. The Sunday evening pictures are free to tverybody but you are invited to bring a silver offering to help pay expenses.
